Product Description

Our

Product Description:

The top sheet of our period napkin is made from soft and breathable materials that feel comfortable against the skin. This layer helps to keep you feeling dry and fresh throughout the day. The soft and breathable material also helps to prevent skin irritation and rashes that can sometimes occur during menstruation.

In addition to the soft and breathable top sheet, our Sanitary Napkin also features a waterproof back sheet. This layer is designed to prevent leaks and provide maximum protection during heavy flow days. The waterproof back sheet also helps to prevent stains on your clothes and bedding, giving you the confidence to go about your day without worrying about embarrassing leaks.

Our Sanitary Napkin is a high-quality product that is designed to provide maximum comfort and protection during menstruation. The multi-layer design ensures that you are protected from leaks and stains, while the soft and breathable top sheet keeps you feeling dry and comfortable. The strong adhesive helps to keep the napkin in place, even during physical activity.

As a Period Napkin Producer, we understand the importance of providing products that are reliable and effective. Our Sanitary Napkin is a product that you can trust to provide the protection you need during menstruation. Whether you are experiencing light or heavy flow, our product is designed to provide the protection and comfort you need to get through your day.
